Press Statement

Maldives Police Service investigating alleged sexual assault case at a resort in Maldives.

The Maldives Police Service is currently conducting a thorough investigation into an alleged sexual assault case that was reported to the police on 11th June 2023.

Upon receiving the information, the Maldives Police Service promptly responded to the incident, deploying forensic teams to the scene to gather crucial evidence. Necessary forensic samples were collected, and initial statements were taken from the parties involved. The victim was provided with immediate medical assistance and support.

At this stage, no arrests have been made in connection with the incident. However, the Maldives Police Service wants to assure the public that all necessary investigative actions are being taken to ensure a comprehensive examination of the case.

The Maldives Police Service takes reports of alleged sexual assault with the utmost seriousness and professionalism.

We are currently awaiting the results of the forensic samples taken from both the victim and the individual in question. Our investigators are meticulously following all lines of inquiry and conducting a diligent analysis of the evidence gathered. Further updates will be provided once additional findings emerge from the investigation.

The Maldives Police Service remains committed to upholding the law, safeguarding the well-being of all individuals within our jurisdiction, and ensuring justice is served. We will continue to work diligently to bring this investigation to a just resolution.

We appreciate the cooperation and understanding of the public and the media during this ongoing investigation.
